FOREWORD BY CHAIRMAN OF THE MRE MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

As we say goodbye to 2017, being one of the most challenging year ever for the rubber market, we welcome 2018 with hope of a better year for the natural rubber (NR) industry. As Thailand, Indonesia and Malaysia, under the framework of International Tripartite Rubber Council (ITRC) had agreed to implement several coordinated measures to ensure remunerative and fair NR prices, let us do our part and together we plan and manage for a united front for the benefit and betterment of the rubber industry as a whole. Boosted by the burgeoning global economic recovery, NR market saw a positive performance and posted modest gains in 2017. Despite the market was relatively volatile in 2017, SMR 20 witnessed a gain of RM1.35 per kilogram or 23.8% to RM7.04 per kilogram, compared with RM5.68 per kilogram in 2016. SMR 20 surged to a near five-year high at RM10.59 per kilogram on 31 January 2017. The bullish sentiment in the first quarter of 2017 was contributed by supply disruption following unseasonal heavy rains and floods in Southern Thailand and Malaysia, remarkable performance of rubber futures markets, weaker currencies of NR exporting countries against US dollar, firmer oil prices and strong buying interest from China. After the peak, the sentiment reversed and prices took a sharp downturn towards end of June, thereafter the sentiment remained weak and prices hovered within a tight range during second half of the year. The bearish sentiment were influenced by excessive speculation in rubber futures markets due to the large number of individual traders were less concerned with supply-demand dynamics, absence of significant consumer interest, rising NR stocks in China and weaker US dollar.

The MRE, which is a unit under the Malaysian Rubber Board (MRB) functions as a gateway for rubber industry specifically in providing the necessary facilities and services pertaining to the rubber trade. Throughout the year, the MRE has consistently putting its effort in promoting and upholding a proper conduct of trade for the Malaysian rubber industry, besides continuously serving its members both within the country and overseas. This was made possible through the support given by all members of the MRE. In view of the changing scenario of the Malaysian rubber industry and the developments on the global front, the MRE needs to review its current role and functions and formulate policies so as to enhance services and facilities to its members. The MRE should elevate its status as a focal point for the international rubber trade.

In 2017, the MRE improved both price discovery mechanism for SMR 20 and latex in bulk. In line with the MRB strategies, the effectiveness of the price discovery mechanism will be reviewed from time to time to ensure that the prices are transparent, reflective and credible. The market needs timely, accurate and useful information to facilitate industry in business decision-making. In this regard, the MRE started to issue “Daily Market Watch” and “KL Rubber Market Newsletter “ (monthly publication) in 2017 to their members with the objective to update and share information on the factors influencing NR prices, latest news on global economic scenario and rubber industry as well as market outlook. MRE maintains liaison with other exchanges and trade associations within the ASEAN as well as other rubber trading bodies in the world. MRE participates actively in both the international and regional meetings such as the International Rubber Association (IRA), the ASEAN Rubber Business Council (ARBC) and the International Tripartite Rubber Council (ITRC).

MRE endeavours to create a variety of networking platforms to give our members the opportunity to meet each other and potential new business partners. Among the main activities planned by MRE for 2018 include Technical and Business Missions, Seminars, MRE Annual Dinner and Golf 2018 and other events organised by MRB. Members are strongly encouraged to take part in all scheduled events, which are expected to provide new knowledge deemed necessary for their business decision making, new business opportunities in the rubber industry and the strengthening of the existing business relationships.

This 2018 issue of the MRE Membership Directory is a platform to promote the Malaysian rubber industry. This directory serves as an excellent source of reference for all users and at the same time, provides easy access to information on the MRE and its members.

I would like to thank all members for your continuous support to the MRE and its activities. We believe that MRE will keep us united and be prepared for further challenges in the year ahead. The MRE also welcomes your constructive feedback on how its present services could be further improved and value-added, apart from potential activities that could be carried out in order to provide better service to its members. I wish all MRE members every success in your business endeavours.

Thank you.
